

CONTENTS

Introductory Remarks	1
Apathy and Defines	8
The Chemical Warfare Threat	15
The Biological Warfare Threat	23
The New Chemical-Biological-Radiological Perspective	34
The Status of Medical Problems	41
An Adequate Shelter Program	51
Individual Protection	59
Status and Needs of Detection, Early Warning, and Identification of Chemical Warfare and Biological Warfare Agents	68
The Congressional Point of View	78
Research need for Nonmilitary Defense	88
What we Remember and What We Must Do	94