

	Page
Part One
INTRODUCTION, PRINCIPAL FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS	1/2
I. INTRODUCTION	3
A. Demand in selected OECD countries	3
B. Change in bicycle design	4
C. Markets studied	6
D. Products studied	9
II. PRINCIPAL FINDINGS	11
A. World production	11
B. Characteristics of the bicycle industry	13
C. Imports of bicycles and components by selected OECD countries	14
D. Share of developing countries in OECD imports of bicycles and components	19
E. Evaluation of bicycles and components produced in developing countries	20
1. Bicycles	20
2. Components and accessories	22
F. Trade pattern	23
1. Demand	23
2. Consumption	24
3. Import channels	26
4. Distribution	26
G. Products with good sales prospects	28
1. Bicycles	28
2. Components and accessories	29
H. Trade fairs	31
I. Standards and technical regulations	32
III. RECOMMENDATIONS	33
A. Production	33
1. Raw materials	33

	Page
2. Manufacturing techniques	33
3. Components	33
4. Finishing	33
5. Design	33
6. Quality control	34
7. Packaging	34
8. Technical co-operation with firms in target markets	34
B. Approaching the market	35
1. Import and distribution channels	35
2. Delivery	35
3. Price	35
4. Promotion	36

Part Two	COUNTRY CHAPTERS	37/38
-----------------	-------------------------	-------

I.	FEDERAL REPUBLIC OF GERMANY	39
A.	Production	39
	1. Structure of the bicycle industry	39
	2. Structure of the components industry	40
B.	Foreign trade	42
	1. Imports	42
	2. Exports	46
C.	Demand and consumption	49
	1. Size of the market	49
	2. Demand pattern	52
	3. Ownership pattern	53
	4. Share of imports in consumption	54
D.	Price formation and mark-ups	56
	1. Manufacturers' and importers' mark-ups and price calculations	56
	2. Specifications	58
	3. Wholesale prices	59
	4. Retail prices	64

	Page
E. Trade comments on bicycles and components from developing countries	69
1. General	69
2. Bicycles	69
3. Components	70
4. Market requirements	71
5. Prospects for bicycles and components from developing countries	71
F. Packaging and transportation	75
G. Trade pattern	76
1. Import channels	76
2. Distribution channels	77
3. After-sales and repair services	79
4. Brands and market shares	79
5. Trade fairs	80
6. Co-operation arrangements	81
7. Industrial, trade and other organizations	82
H. Import duties and internal taxes	83
1. Import duties	83
2. Internal taxes	84
I. Standards and technical regulations	85
Annex Useful addresses	86
II. NETHERLANDS	92
A. Production	92
1. Bicycles	92
2. Components	94
B. Foreign trade	96
1. Imports	96
2. Exports	102
C. Demand and consumption	104
1. Demand	104
2. Consumption	104
3. Pattern of consumption	105
4. Share of imports in consumption	107

	Page
5. Brands and market shares	107
6. Ownership pattern	108
D. Price formation and mark-ups	110
1. Manufacturers' price calculations	110
2. Specifications	112
3. Wholesale prices	113
4. Retail prices	117
E. Quality requirements and market prospects for bicycles and components from developing countries	121
1. Bicycles	121
2. Components	122
3. Co-operation arrangements	123
F. Packaging and transportation	124
G. Trade pattern	125
1. Trade associations	125
2. Import channels	125
3. Distribution channels	125
4. After-sales and repair services	126
5. Bicycle promotion	127
H. Import duties and internal taxes	127
I. Standards and technical regulations	127
Annex Useful addresses	128
III. UNITED STATES	132
A. Production	132
1. General	132
2. Structure of the bicycle industry	132
3. Structure of the components industry	133
B. Foreign trade	134
1. Imports of bicycles	134
2. Imports of components and accessories	139
C. Demand and consumption	143
1. Size of the market	143
2. Consumption pattern	145

	Page
3. Bicycle uses	147
4. Sales by age groups	147
5. Market penetration	149
6. Prospects	151
7. Shares of imports in consumption	152
(a) Bicycles	152
(b) Components	154
D. Price formation and mark-ups	154
1. Mark-ups	154
2. Specifications	156
3. Wholesale prices	157
(a) Bicycles	157
(b) Components	159
4. Retail prices	161
(a) Bicycles	161
(b) Components	163
E. Trade comments on bicycles and components from developing countries	165
1. Bicycles	165
2. Components and accessories	167
F. Market requirements	169
G. Prospects for bicycles and components from developing countries	171
1. Bicycles	171
2. Components and accessories	172
H. Packaging and transportation	175
I. Trade pattern	176
1. Import channels	176
2. Distribution channels	176
3. After-sales service	178
4. Seasonal sales	178
5. Trade fairs	178
6. Industrial and trade organizations	179
J. Duty rates and other indirect taxes	180
K. Safety regulations	183
Annex Useful addresses	185

IV.	CANADA	193
A.	Production	193
1.	Structure of the bicycle industry	193
2.	Structure of the components industry	195
B.	Foreign trade	196
1.	Imports	196
(a)	Bicycles	196
(b)	Components and accessories	198
2.	Exports	198
C.	Demand and consumption	202
1.	Size of the market	202
2.	Demand pattern	203
3.	Market segments	203
4.	Share of imports in consumption	205
(a)	Bicycles	205
(b)	Components and accessories	206
5.	Outlook	206
D.	Price formation and mark-ups	207
1.	Manufacturers' and importers' mark-ups	207
2.	Retailers' mark-ups	207
3.	Specifications	209
4.	Wholesale prices	210
(a)	Bicycles	210
(b)	Components and accessories	212
5.	Retail prices	214
(a)	Bicycles	214
(b)	Components and accessories	216
E.	Trade comments on bicycles and components from developing countries	218
1.	Bicycles	218
2.	Components and accessories	219
F.	Market requirements	220
G.	Prospects for bicycles and components from developing countries	222
1.	Bicycles	222

	Page
2. Components and accessories	222
H. Trade pattern	224
1. Import channels	224
2. Packaging and transportation	224
3. Distribution channels	224
4. Seasonal sales	226
5. Geographical distribution of sales	226
6. After-sales and repair services	226
7. Trade associations	226
8. Trade fairs and exhibitions	227
I. Duty rates and other indirect taxes	228
1. Duty rates	228
2. Sales tax	231
Annex Useful addresses	232

Appendices	235/236
I. World production of bicycles	237
II. Addresses of manufacturers of bicycles and components in developing countries and areas	241
III. Description of the products studied	245
IV. Bibliography	279