Preface xi

Contents of Other Volumes xv

1 General Introduction

GERALD O. ASPINALL

- I. Polysaccharides and Other Carbohydrate-Containing Polymers 1
- II. Nomenclature and Basic Chemistry of the Constituent Sugars 5
- III. General Structure and Nomenclature of Polysaccharides 14
- IV. The Literature of Polysaccharide Chemistry 17
- References 18

2 Isolation and Fractionation of Polysaccharides

GERALD O. ASPINALL

- I. Introduction 19
- II. Concepts of Homogeneity and Heterogeneity 20
- III. Isolation and Fractionation of Polysaccharides 26
- IV. Criteria for Homogeneity 31
- References 32

3 Chemical Characterization and Structure Determination of Polysaccharides

GERALD O. ASPINALL

- I. Introduction 36
- II. Composition and Molecular Size 37
- III. Problems of Structure Determination 44
- IV. Methylation 45
- V. Partial Depolymerization by Hydrolysis and Related Reactions 56
- VI. Oxidations with Periodate and Lead Tetraacetate 81
- VII. Structural Modifications of Polysaccharides 89
- VIII. Other Methods for Partial Depolymerization 100
- References 124

4 Spectroscopic Methods

ARTHUR S. PERLIN and BENITO CASU

- I. Introduction 133
- II. Nuclear Magnetic Resonance Spectroscopy 135
- III. Infrared–Raman Spectroscopy 172
- IV. Comparative Evaluation of Spectroscopy Methods 184
- References 186

5 Shapes and Interactions of Carbohydrate Chains

DAVID A. REES, EDWIN R. MORRIS, DAVID THOM, and JOHN K. MADDEN

- I. Conformational Principles 196
- II. Experimental Characterization 204
- III. Homopolysaccharides 224
- IV. Regular Copolysaccharides 238
- V. Disordered Chains in Solution 255
- VI. Hydrated Networks 263
- VII. Mixed Interactions 276
- References 281

6 Immunology of Polysaccharides

C. T. BISHOP and H. J. JENNINGS

I. Introduction 292

II. Molecular Architecture of Bacteria, Yeasts, and Fungi 293

III. The Immune Response to Polysaccharides 296

IV. Structural Aspects of the Immune Response to Polysaccharides 312

V. Polysaccharide Antigens in Human Disease 320
References 325

Index 331
