	Preface	iii
Chapter 1	Phospholipid Transporters in the Brain Robert A. Schlegel, Margaret S. Halleck, and Patrick Williamson	1
Chapter 2	Stimulation of Lipases and Phospholipases in Alzheimer Disease Akhlaq A. Farooqui, Wei-Yi Ong, and Lloyd A. Horrocks	14
Chapter 3	Is There Evidence That Phospholipid Administration Is Beneficial for Your Brain? G. Pepeu	30
Chapter 4	Phospholipid and Fatty Acid Metabolism in Schizophrenia and Depression M.S. Manku and D.F. Horrobin	40
Chapter 5	Altered Prostaglandin Mediated Skin Flush in Schizophrenia—Implications for Early Psychosis Interventions Stefan Smesny, Timm Rosburg, Sven Riemann, and Heinrich Sauer	50
Chapter 6	Nutritional Implications of Sphingolipids: Occurrence and Roles in Cell Regulation Alfred H. Merrill, Jr., Holly Symolon, Jeremy C. Allegood, Qiong Peng, Sarah Trotman-Pruett, and M. Cameron Sullards .	61
Chapter 7	Digestion and Absorption of Sphingolipids in Food Åke Nilsson, Erik Hertervig, and Rui-Dong Duan	70
Chapter 8	Dietary Sphingolipids in the Prevention and Treatment of Colon Cancer Eva M. Schmelz	80
Chapter 9	Compositional Analysis of Complex Mixtures of Sphingolipids by Liquid Chromatography–Tandem Mass Spectrometry M. Cameron Sullards, Elaine Wang, and Alfred H. Merrill, Jr. .	88
Chapter 10	Role of Dietary Gangliosides in Early Infancy Ricardo Rueda, Enrique Vázquez, and Angel Gil	101

Chapter 11	The Benefits of Lecithin on Cardiovascular Disease Debra L. Miller	117
Chapter 12	Is There a Rationale for Phospholipid Supplementation in Athletes? Fred Brouns	130
Chapter 13	Effects of Phosphatidylcholine Intake on Liver Function and Liver Carcinogenesis David J. Canty	142
Chapter 14	Polyunsaturated Phosphatidylcholine in Chronic Liver Disease—Past and Present K.-J. Gundermann and E.W. Scheele	153
Chapter 15	Cyclic Phosphates Originating from Degradation of Phospholipids M. Shinitzky and A. Pelah	163
Chapter 16	Effect of Two Diets in Children and Adolescents with Familial Hypercholesterolemia: Soy-Protein Diet Versus Low Saturated Fat Diet K. Widhalm and E. Reithofer	171
Chapter 17	Essential Polyunsaturated Fatty Acids in Mothers and Their Neonates Gerard Hornstra	175
Chapter 18	Liposomes in Nutrition B.C. Keller	197
Chapter 19	Lower Incidence of Necrotizing Enterocolitis in Infants Fed a Pre-term Formula with Egg Phospholipids Susan E. Carlson, Michael B. Montalto, Debra L. Ponder, Susan H. Werkman, and Sheldon B. Korones.	207
Chapter 20	Perinatal Supply and Metabolism of Long-Chain Polyunsaturated Fatty Acids Hans Demmelmair, Elvira Larque, and Berthold Koletzko	225
Chapter 21	Phosphatidylcholine as Drug Substance and as Excipient—the Mechanism of Biological Activity Miklos Ghyczy and Mihály Boros	234
