

CONTENTS

Title of Paper	Paper Number
Opening Remarks
The Safe Drinking Water Act
The New Federal Drinking Water Standards
Impact on State Programs	IV
Impact of the Safe Drinking Water Act and the New Standards on Water Utilities
Bacteriological Sampling of Community Drinking Water Supplies
Is the Total Count Necessary
Improved Total Count Techniques
What's the Significance of Nuisance Organisms?
Determination of Nuisance Organisms
Sampling for Chemical and Physical Quality: An Overview	XI
Is A Sodium Standard Necessary?
Death Rates Following a Sudden Change in Hardness of Drinking Water	XIII
Determination of Asbestos by Optical Microscopy	XIV
Introduction to Second General Session	XV
What's Right/Wrong With Standard Methods	XVI
Why EPA Analytical Methods?
Analytical Quality Control
Oklahoma's Water and Wastewater Laboratory Certification Program	XIX
Is A Virus Standard Necessary?	XX
Detection of Viruses	XXI
Significance of Virus Problem	XXII
Measurement of Organics in Drinking Water	XXIII

CONTENTS (cont'd)

Title of Paper	Paper Number
The Evaluation of Existing Field Test Kits for Determining Free Chlorine Residuals in Aqueous Solutions	XXIV
Determination of Pesticides in Water and Wastewater	XXV