

CONTENT

	Page
Preface	v
Editorial	vii
Contributors to the Handbook – Volume I	ix
Special Note	xiii
List of tables	xix
List of Figures	xix
1. The Biology of Weeds	1
2. The Evolution of Methods of Weed Control in British Agriculture	25
3. The selective Toxicity of Herbicides	44
4. Herbicides and Herbicide Treatments	60
5. The Application of Herbicides	101
Section I Formulation of Herbicides	101
Section II Factors influencing the distribution of herbicides on foliage or in soil	104
Section III Application equipment	107
Section IV Preparing products for application	122
Section V Application procedure : Spraying machines	126
Machines for applying granules and dusts	141
Section VI Decontamination of spraying machines	142
Section VII Storage of machines and herbicides	144
Section VIII Errors in applying herbicides	145
6. The Fate and Significance of Herbicides in Plants and Soil	152
Section I Herbicides in soil	152
Section II Simple biological tests for the detection of herbicide residues	159
Section III Herbicides in Plants	161
Section IV The Effect of herbicides on soil micro-organisms	167
Section V The effect of herbicides on soil invertebrates	174
7. The Evaluation of a New Herbicide	176
8. Weed Control in Cereals	216
9. Weed control in Row Crops	226
Bean	227
Beet, sugar and fodder, and mangel	229
Brussels sprout, cabbage and cauliflower	230
Carrot	231
Celery	232
Kale	232
Maize	233
Onion	234
Pea	234
Potato	235
Rape for oil	239
Swede and turnip	239
10. Weed Control in Perennial Crops Other than Forage Crops	240
11. Weed Control in Grass and Legume Forage Crops and Natural Grassland	255
12. Weed Control in Crops Grown for Seed	273
13. Weed Control in Turf and Sports surfaces	281
14. Weed Control in Forests and Forest Nurseries	292
15. Weed Control in Land not Used for Crops	300
Section I Total control of vegetation	300
Section II Partial control of vegetation	304

16.	Aquatic Weed Control	308
17.	Weed Control in Gardens	319
18.	Safeguards for the User, the Public and Wild Life in Relation to herbicides	325
	Section I The Pesticides Safety Precautions Scheme and the Agriculture (Poisonous Substances) Act	326
	Section II Protection of wild life	332
	Section III Civil liability of users of herbicides	334
	Section IV Insurance in relation to the use of herbicides	336
	Section V Agricultural Chemicals Approval Scheme	339
19.	The Organisation of Research and Development in weed Control in Britain and Sources of Published Information	342

APPENDICES

I	Properties of herbicides	351
II	Glossary of technical terms	449
III	Grants available towards the cost of weed destruction	455
IV	The cost of herbicides	456
	Index	458