

CONTENTS

Introduction	1
1. Background and justification	5
POTENTIAL CONSUMER GROUPS	5
PRODUCTION, PROCESSING, DISTRIBUTION, AND MARKETING POSSIBILITIES	6
2. Planning the campaign	9
COLLABORATION OF NATIONAL LEADERS	9
DEVELOPING A NATIONAL PLAN	9
Definition of specific objectives	12
Educational channels	13
Educational processes	14
Evaluation of campaign activities	15
Training personnel	16
Methods of teaching, teaching aids and other equipment	17
A pilot project	17
Expansion of the campaign	18
3. Running the campaign	21
INTRODUCING THE CAMPAIGN TO THE PUBLIC	21
DEVELOPING A PILOT PROJECT	21
Consumer surveys and their interpretation	21
Local collaboration	22
Content of teaching	22
Developing the campaign	24
Specific campaign activities	26
Preparation of teaching materials	44
TRAINING CAMPAIGN WORKERS	56
EXPANSION OF THE PROGRAM	56

Appendixes

A. Notes on three consumer surveys carried out in Mexico (1954/55) and Morocco (1960)	59
B. Information to be obtained through a survey of fish marketing	65
C. Example of a food game	68
D. Suggestions for integrating teaching about protein-rich food into school programs	73
E. Examples of questions and answers used for training campaign Workers in Morocco	88
F. A puppet play example of a fish drama	91