

CONTENT

		Page
1.	International Comparisons	1
	Manufacturing Output	1
	Productivity : National Comparisons	5
	Productivity : Plant-level Comparisons	6
	Why Has This Happened?	7
	Manufacturing Strategy	11
	Conclusion	13
2.	Developing a Manufacturing Strategy – Principles and Concepts	17
	Functional Strategies	18
	Functional Dominance Within Corporate Strategy	19
	Reasons for Manufacturing’s Reactive Role in Corporate Strategy	20
	The Content of Corporate Strategy	24
	Developing a Manufacturing Strategy	26
	Order-Winners and Qualifiers	31
	The Procedure for Establishing order-Winners and Qualifiers	35
	Understanding the Criteria Chosen and Their Relative Weightings	37
	The Outputs of Manufacturing Strategy	38
	Conclusion	40
3.	Order-Winners and Qualifiers	43
	Strategic Scenarios and Approaches	43
	Strategic Vacuum	44
	Understanding Market	45
	Characteristics of Today’s	45
	Order-winners and qualifiers – Basic Characteristics	46
	Order-Winners and Qualifier – Specific Dimensions	47
	Benchmarking	70
	Determining Order-Winners and Qualifiers	74
	Conclusion	75
4.	Developing a Manufacturing Strategy – Methodology	77
	Checking Markets	77
	Relating Manufacturing to Agreed Markets	87
	Conclusion	91
5.	Process Choice	93
	Process Choice	93
	Business Implications of Process Choice	101
	Selected Business Implication	103
	An Overview of Process Choice	110
	Hybrid Processes	112
	Review of the use of Numerical Control (NC) in Hybrid Processes	119
	Corporate Manufacturing Responses to Similar Markets	121
	Technology Strategy	122
	Conclusion	124
6.	Product Profiling	127
	The Need to Expand Manufacturing’s Language Base	128
	Product Profiling	128
	Company-based Profiles	130
	Product-based Profiles	136

	Using Product Profiling	137
	Conclusion	138
7.	Focused Manufacturing – Principles and Concepts	141
	Focused Manufacturing	142
	Trade-offs in Focused Manufacturing	146
	Alternative Approaches to Focused Manufacturing	146
	Plant-within-a-plant Configuration	148
	Focus and the Product Life Cycle	149
	Progression or Regression in Focused Manufacturing	152
	Conclusion	153
8.	Focused Manufacturing – Methodology
	Origins of Existing Plants	157
	Moving to Focused Plants	157
	Steps toward Focused Plants	159
	Conclusion	164
9.	Make or Buy?	165
	Reasons for Choosing Alternative Strategic Positions	165
	Issues Involved in Changing Make-or-Buy decisions	169
	Level of Vertical Integration	172
	The Hollow Corporation	175
	Alternatives to Widening Internal Span of Process	177
	Conclusion	183
10.	Manufacturing Infrastructure Development	185
	Manufacturing Infrastructure Issues	187
	Infrastructure Development	189
	Organizational Issues	191
	Operational Effects of Structural Decision	197
	Strategy-based Alternatives	198
	Operational Control	204
	Conclusion	218
11.	Accounting and Financial Perspectives and Manufacturing Strategy	221
	Investment Decisions	222
	The Need for a Strategic View of Investments	223
	Operating Controls and Information	235
	The Simplistic Nature of Accounting Information	235
	The Need for Accounting System Development	238
	Conclusion	245
Case 1 :	Anonke Apparel Company	249
Case 2 :	Aztec Holdings, Inc.	272
Case 3 :	Clifton Industries	284
Case 4 :	Control Electronics Inc.	301
Case 5 :	Franklin, Singleton and Cotton	315
Case 6 :	Hoffmann Tobacco	322
Case 7 :	Honeywell PACE	333
Case 8 :	HQ Injection Molding Company	347
Case 9 :	Kawasaki USA	362
Case 10 :	Klein Products	375
Case 11 :	Meta Products	385
Case 12 :	Millstone Packaging	401
Case 13 :	Moog, Inc.	407
Case 14 :	Nolan and Warner Plc	420
Case 15 :	Ontario Pakaging	427
Case 16 :	Peterson Carton Services	430
Case 17 :	Precision Steel Plc	448

Case 18 :	Ranson Electronics Products	464
Case 19 :	Remington Products, Inc.	474
Case 20 :	Shire Products	488
Case 21 :	Tama Electronics Inc.	509
Case 22 :	The Great Nuclear Fizzle at Old B&W	517
Case 23 :	Tyndall Furniture company (A)	526
Case 24 :	Tyndal Furniture Company (B)	534
Case 25 :	Tyndall Furniture Company (C)	547
Case 26 :	Winkler, A.G.	558
Index		577