

CONTENTSFirst Session

Spices then and now	15
Spices and herbs: their families, secretory tissues and pharmaceutical value	23
Discussion	35

Second Session

Herbs and spices for food manufacture	39
Methodes d'études des composantes aromatiques des extraits de vanille	49
Methods for the study of the aromatic components of vanilla extracts	55
Discussion	61
Methodes traditionnelles de la preparation de la vanille. Amelioration de ces techniques a la station d'Antalaha	63
Traditional methods of vanilla preparation: Improvement of these techniques at the Antalaha Station	71
Vanilla and its uses	79

Third Session

Spices: general agronomic aspects	85
Pepper cultivation in India	91
Discussion	95
The introduction of spice crops into the British Solomon islands	97
Some aspects of the nutmeg investigation programme in Grenada	105
Discussion	113

Fourth Session

Ginger cultivation in India	117
The chromatographic examination of spice oils	123
Discussion	127
Sensory methods of flavour analysis	129
Oleoresin quality analysis: fact or fancy	137
Discussion	145

Fifth Session

Artificial drying of Jamaican pimento	149
Some recent developments in the production of spices and their essential oils in Ceylon	159
Discussion	169

Sixth Session

Some details of the distillation of spice oils	173
The importance of selecting the proper variety of a spice for oil and oleoresin extraction	183
Discussion	187
Theory and practice of oleoresin extraction	189
Spices or oleoresins-a choice	193
Discussion	199
Preservation and sterilization of pure and mixed spices	201
A new approach to spice processing	209
Discussion	215

Seventh Session

Recent trends in the pepper economy	219
The marketing of Sarawak pepper	223
Discussion	231
The American spice market 1972	233
Spice oleoresins, the process, the market, the future	237
Discussion	241

Concluding Session

Reports	245
List of registered delegates	253