

CONTENTS

I. Classification, Identification, and Industrial Importance of the Yeasts	1
II. Bakers' Yeast. Historical: Yeast Physiology and Nutrition	13
III. Bakers' Yeast. The Growth of Yeast and the Mechanism of Yeast Growth	27
IV. Bakers' Yeast. Modern Practice in Production of Bakers' Yeast	42
V. Bakers' Yeast. Preparation of Molasses Wort and Control of The Fermentation	53
VI. Bakers' Yeast. Control of the Assimilation and Harvesting of the Yeast Crop	66
VII. The Nutrilites	76
VIII. The Importance of Nutrilites in the Production of Pressed Yeast	86
IX. Yeast Growth Methods for the Determination of Biotin, Pantothenic Acid, and Inositol Activities in Raw Materials	101
X. Assimilation by Yeasts of Organic Non-sugar Substances as Sources of Carbon	124
XI. A Survey of Methods for the Determination of Yeast Quantity	133
XII. Structure and Consistency of Yeast	146
XIII. Some Aspects of Yeast Physiology	162
XIV. Effect of Pressure on the Yeast Cell	177
XV. The Colour of Yeast	186
XVI. Chemical and Physical Methods used in the Control of Yeast Growth Processes	207
XVII. Microbiological Control of Yeast Growth Processes	226
XVIII. The Effect of Aeration and other Factors upon Yeast Growth And Fermentation	243
XIX. Influence of Temperature on Yeast Growth and Fermentation	275

X	Variation in Water Content of Yeast Cells caused by Varying Temperatures of Growth and Other Cultural Conditions	280
	XXI. Toxic Action of Common Elements towards Yeast Growth	286
	XXII. Yeast Genetics	294
	XXIII. Food and Fodder Yeasts	299
	XXIV. Yeast Products: Dried Baking Yeasts	312
	XXV. Yeasts and Animal Nutrition	317
	XXVI. Yeast and the Baking Industry	321
	XXVII. Brewers' Yeasts	334
	XXVIII. Effects of Common Bactericidal Substances and of Heat upon Yeast Growth and Viability	357
	XXIX. Disposal of Effluents from Yeast Factories	376
	XXX. Some Aspects of The Behaviour of Bakers' Yeasts in Panary Fermentations	380
	XXXI. Irregular Growth of Yeasts	408
	XXXII. Yeast Osmosensitivity	419
	Index of Micro-organisms	423
	Index of Authors	425
	Subject Index	428
