MELTING AND MODELING

Experiences with an Oxygen-Fired Container Glass Furnace with Silica Crown—14 Years—a World Record? Jan J. Schep	3
Fining of Glass Melts: What We Know about Fining Processes Today Ruud Beerkens	13
All-Electric Furnaces for High Quality Demands in a Wide Range of Glass Compositions Lars Biennek, Harald Jodeit, and Hans-Jürgen Linz	29
Laboratory Experiments and Mathematical Modeling Can Solve Furnace Operational Problems H. P. H. Muijsenberg, J. Ullrich and G. Neff	47
Applications of Model Based Control in Float and Fiberglass Ron Finch	59
LCD Glass Manufacturing for a Global Industry Daniel A. Nolet	69

REFRACTORIES

Buying Refractories in China Charles E. Semler	79
---	----

Refractories for a Global Glass Market Sarah Baxendale and Nigel Longshaw	89
History of Hot Repairs—Past, Present and Future David T. Boothe	101
Water-Cooled Refractory Shapes for Harsh Forehearth Superstructure Applications Walter L. Evans, Luke Evans, and Christopher W. Hughes	111
A New Silica Brick Without Lime Bonding Götz Heilemann, Stefan Postrach, Rongxing Bei, Bernhard Schmalenbach, and Klaus Santowski	115

COMBUSTION AND ENERGY SAVINGS

An Improved Solution for Oxy-Fuel Fired Glass Melting Furnaces Matthias Lindig	123
Batch Preheating on Container Glass Furnaces Hansjürgen Barklage-Hilgefort	133
Energy Saving Options for Glass Furnaces and Recovery of Heat from Their Flue Gases and Experiences with Batch and Cullet Pre-Heaters Applied in the Glass Industry Ruud Beerkens	143
Industrial Results of ALGLASS FH Oxy Fuel Forehearth Burner Operation Robert Kalcevic, Remi Tsiava, Ryuji Fujinuma, Chendhill Periasamy, Rajeev Prabhakar, and George Todd	163
Float Fire Gas Fired System for Tin Float Lines Jim Roberts, Herb Gessler, and Gary Deren	173
Evaluation and Implementation of X-Ray Analysis of Raw Materials Using Borate Fusion Samples Neal T. Nichols and Brian D. Mitchell	177
Glass Surface Corrosion and Protective Interleaving Systems Paul F. Duffer	181

ENVIRONMENTAL ISSUES AND NEW PRODUCTS

Megatrends in the Commercial Glazing Market—A Challenge for the Glass Industry James J. Finley	191
--	-----

Looking Windward: Fiber Glass in the Energy Markets Cheryl A. Richards	203
Current Glass Furnace Air Emission Compliance Issues C. Philip Ross	215
Global Warming and Sustainability of the Glass Industry Guy Tackels	227
